PRIVACY POLICY

Effective Date: 7 October 2026

Last Updated: 7 October 2026

1. Introduction

Welcome to our Neurology Practice. We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting the personal and health information entrusted to us.

This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, store, protect, and disclose personal information when you visit our website, contact our practice, request an appointment, or receive neurological healthcare services from us.

We process personal information in accordance with applicable South African privacy and healthcare laws, including the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013 (POPIA) and other applicable legislation and professional requirements.

By using our website or providing personal information to us, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Policy.

2. Information We Collect

Depending on how you interact with our practice, we may collect the following information:

2.1 Personal Information

This may include:

- Full name and surname
- Date of birth

- Identity or passport number where required
- Contact details
- Residential or postal address
- Email address
- Telephone or mobile number
- Medical aid information
- Emergency contact details
- Appointment information

2.2 Health and Medical Information

As a neurology practice, we may need to collect sensitive health information, including:

- Medical history
- Neurological symptoms and conditions
- Previous diagnoses
- Medication information
- Allergies
- Laboratory and diagnostic results
- MRI, CT, EEG and other investigation results
- Specialist and referral reports
- Treatment information
- Clinical notes
- Information relating to physical or mental health where relevant to your treatment

Health information is treated as confidential and is only processed where permitted by applicable law and professional healthcare requirements.

2.3 Website Information

When you use our website, we may collect technical information such as:

- IP address
- Browser type
- Device information
- Operating system
- Pages visited
- Website usage information
- Date and time of access

Where applicable, cookies and similar technologies may be used to improve website functionality and user experience.

3. How We Collect Information

We may collect personal information:

- Directly from you
- When you complete an online contact or appointment form
- When you telephone, email, or communicate with our practice
- During consultations
- From referring doctors or other healthcare professionals
- From hospitals, laboratories, radiology providers, or other healthcare providers
- From medical aid or healthcare administration providers where permitted
- Through our website and related technologies
- From a person legally authorised to act on your behalf

We will generally collect information directly from you unless there is a lawful reason to obtain it from another source.

4. How We Use Your Information

We may use your personal and health information to:

- Provide neurological healthcare services
- Assess, diagnose, treat and monitor your condition
- Schedule and manage appointments
- Communicate with you about your care
- Process medical aid or billing information
- Respond to enquiries
- Maintain accurate healthcare records
- Coordinate care with other healthcare professionals
- Process referrals
- Meet legal, regulatory and professional obligations
- Protect the safety and wellbeing of patients and staff
- Improve our services and website
- Prevent fraud, misuse, or unauthorised access
- Respond to lawful requests from authorities where required

We will not use your information for purposes that are incompatible with the reason for which it was collected unless permitted or required by law.

5. Protection of Health Information

Your medical information is confidential.

We take reasonable technical and organisational measures to protect personal and health information against:

- Unauthorised access
- Loss
- Theft

- Destruction
- Accidental disclosure
- Unauthorised alteration
- Unlawful processing

Access to patient information is restricted to authorised individuals who require the information to perform their professional or administrative duties.

6. Sharing of Information

We will not sell, rent, or trade your personal information.

We may disclose information where reasonably necessary and legally permitted, including to:

- Doctors and healthcare professionals involved in your care
- Hospitals and medical facilities
- Laboratories and diagnostic providers
- Medical schemes and administrators
- Healthcare service providers
- Information technology and administrative service providers
- Professional advisers
- Regulatory or statutory authorities
- Law enforcement agencies where legally required
- A person authorised by you

Where third-party service providers process personal information on our behalf, we will take reasonable steps to ensure that appropriate confidentiality and security safeguards are in place.

7. Medical Records

We maintain patient records in accordance with applicable healthcare, professional, legal and regulatory requirements.

Medical records may include consultation notes, diagnoses, treatment plans, prescriptions, investigation results, referral information and other information relevant to your healthcare.

Records will be retained for the period required by applicable legislation, professional standards, contractual obligations, or legitimate healthcare and administrative requirements.

8. Your Privacy Rights

Subject to applicable law, you may have the right to:

- Request access to personal information we hold about you
- Request correction of inaccurate or incomplete information
- Request that certain information be updated
- Object to certain forms of processing
- Request deletion of information where legally permissible
- Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent
- Request information about how your personal information is processed
- Lodge a complaint regarding the handling of your personal information

Some requests may be subject to legal, medical, regulatory, or administrative limitations.

To exercise your rights, please contact our Information Officer using the contact details provided below.

9. Website Cookies

Our website may use cookies or similar technologies.

Cookies may be used to:

- Keep the website functioning correctly
- Remember preferences
- Understand website traffic
- Improve website performance
- Enhance the user experience

You may be able to disable cookies through your browser settings. Disabling certain cookies may affect website functionality.

10. Third-Party Websites

Our website may contain links to third-party websites, including healthcare organisations, medical aid providers, hospitals, social media platforms, or other resources.

We are not responsible for the privacy practices, security, or content of third-party websites.

We recommend reviewing the privacy policies of any third-party websites you visit.

11. Email and Electronic Communication

Electronic communications may contain confidential information.

While we take reasonable steps to protect electronic communications, no internet or email transmission can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

Please avoid sending highly sensitive medical information through ordinary email unless specifically requested or an appropriate secure communication method has been provided.

12. Online Appointment and Contact Forms

If you submit information through an online appointment or contact form, the information may be used to:

- Respond to your enquiry
- Contact you regarding an appointment
- Confirm or change an appointment
- Provide information requested by you
- Facilitate your healthcare where appropriate

Submitting an online form does not establish an emergency medical service.

If you are experiencing a medical emergency, please contact your local emergency medical service or attend the nearest emergency department.

13. Children's Information

Where services are provided to children or other individuals who may not legally provide consent independently, we will process personal information in accordance with applicable law and appropriate parental, guardian, or legally authorised consent requirements.

We take particular care to protect information relating to minors.

14. Direct Marketing

We will only use personal information for direct marketing where permitted by applicable law and, where required, with appropriate consent.

You may request that we stop sending non-essential marketing communications.

Healthcare-related communications that are necessary for your care, appointments, billing, or other legitimate administrative purposes may still be sent where permitted.

15. Data Security

We implement reasonable security safeguards designed to protect personal information.

These measures may include:

- Access controls
- Password protection
- Secure systems
- Staff confidentiality obligations
- Restricted access to medical records
- Secure storage
- Security monitoring
- Appropriate backup procedures

Despite these safeguards, no electronic system or method of transmitting information over the internet can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

16. Data Breaches

If we become aware of a security compromise involving personal information, we will take appropriate steps to investigate, contain and remediate the incident.

Where required by applicable law, affected individuals and/or the relevant regulatory authority will be notified.

17. Information Officer

For privacy-related questions, requests, or complaints, please contact our Information Officer.

18. Complaints

If you believe that your personal information has been processed unlawfully or that your privacy rights have been infringed, please contact us first so that we can investigate and attempt to resolve the matter.

You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator of South Africa.

19. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in legislation, healthcare requirements, technology, or our services.

The latest version will be made available on our website, together with the date on which it was last updated.
